JAIL POPULATION SHOWED INCREASE IN YEAR JUST ENDED

There Was A Total of 505 Prisoners in County Jail During 1946

155 MORE THAN IN 1945

Warden Earl D. Handy Files Report of Activities Last Year

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 9 — The population of the Bucks County prison in 1946 was 505 prisoners or 155 more than in the previous year.

Warden Earl D. Handy has made a comprehensive summary of the administration of the Prison during 1946, as follows:

"In order that the taxpayers of the county may have a general picture of the activities of the Bucks County Prison for the year 1946, a brief summary of the work performed, improvements made, projects undertaken, the number and type of inmates confined, and other matters of general interest follow:

"Another year has passed, a very busy year, as the population of the prison has been much higher. A total of 505 prisoners were committed. That is 155 more than the previous year.

"Along with the increase in the population came an increased cost to the taxpayers as they all have to be clothed, fed and cared for. With the larger population in the prison, comes the job of finding more work for them that might be kept busy. If we are to do our best in the re-habilitating program, we must not have idleness, but try to keep the inmates busy with useful and essential work at all times.

"We have tried to do just this and our work program has made it possible to keep most of the sentenced inmates busy. During the Spring, Summer and Fall we have more than enough work, but in the Winter it is not so easy to find work. We have tried to keep the inside work for the Winter months and this has worked very satisfactorily.

"All reports requested and required by the State, the State Parole Board, the Dept. of Welfare, the O. P. A., and the county of Bucks, have been prepared and submitted. The prison has been inspected regularly by the County Commissioners, The State Prison Inspector has made his inspections. The Grand Jury was in four times during the year. The result of these inspections have been published previously in the local papers.

"Through the very close co-operation of the County Commissioners, and the work program of the prison, the building and grounds have been kept in excellent condition. The County Commissioners purchased 12 acres of ground and a barn which is connected to the prison grounds. This new addition is of

Four Communities Are Represented at Shower

A shower which took place in a Lafayette street hall on Saturday evening honored Miss Tana Culura, Dorrance street. Her attendants-to-be, Miss Frances Mocera and Miss Eleanor Bucca, Trenton, N. J.; Mrs. Lee Conti, Bristol, and Mrs. Ida Congliero, Philadelphia, arranged the evening affair.

Miss Culura was presented with a satin down comforter, a corsage, and other gifts. The decorative motif was pink and blue.

Guests were from Philadelphia, Bristol, Langhorne, and Trenton, N. J. They participated in a social time, and were served refreshments.

NO-MAN'S LAND

As a central group of the Navy's Antarctic task force moves cautiously through the fringe of icebergs which forms the outer bastion of the land of the mid-night sun, the American State Department has opened a coordinating diplomatic front. The United States reasserts its policy of not recognizing any claims of other nations in the area and not making any claims for itself, although "reserving all rights it may have" in the South Polar region.

This may or may not be a jolt to the British, who long have claimed sovereignty in the Ross Sea "dependency"; to the Russians, who have set out for the Antarctic with a flotilla of ten "whaling vessels"; to New Zealand, Chile and Argentina, who have been talking of dispatching expeditions to "protect" their previously asserted "rights" to slices of the ice continent; or to France and Norway, who also lay claim to segments.

A London assertion that British "dependencies" in the Antarctic are "permanently occupied" is based, apparently, on an almost continuous series of expeditions, the latest of which is a group of scientists on its way to Marguerite Bay, Americans, including Admiral Byrd, have made extensive stays in the same general area claimed by the British, and also in other parts of the 5,000,000 square-mile continent. But for the present (or possibly until American scientists can determine whether and where uranium exists) the United States prefers that it all remain a no-man's land.

NOT SO BAD AS IT SEEMS

The many fatal flying accidents which marked the holiday season, and which seem to be continuing into the new year—each and every one of them a profoundly tragic event for the families of those who lost their lives—must make some Americans feel that aviation in this country is going backward rather than forward and that airlines, in eagerness to keep their planes flying, are disregarding the elementary rules of caution. Both of these conclusions are unwarranted.

The over-all 1946 safety record, instead of deteriorating, improved substantially. According to the Civil Aeronautic Administration, United airlines last year carried 13,819,000 passengers, or nearly twice as many as the year before. This meant that more planes were in operation, more flights, more miles flown and more difficult routes followed, making it inevitable, though unfortunate, that more accidents would result. Even so, fatalities per 100,000,000 passenger miles fell from 2.31 in 1945 to 1.47 in 1946.

This gain in total safety is, of course, no consolation to people whose friends or relatives are killed when a plane falls to the ground because of poor flying conditions, defective construction, incompetent piloting or for any other reason.

THE COMING ISSUE

From time to time, this pressure on protective tariffs is released by a gradual decline in vigilance on the part of such groups as labor, which tends to forget (until reminded by a head-on collision with hard facts) that the only real protection to their high standards of living is the protective tariff.

Twice within thirty years, the falling off of American awareness of just what a protective tariff is and how it works has set the stage for major economic disasters in this country. Once was during the First World War. Just before the war started, President Wilson insisted on drastic tariff reductions. The war blocked shipping. But when the war was over, in 1920, a deluge of foreign goods hit our market and caused the 1920-21 panic, shutting down hundreds of American factories—lasting until an alarmed Congress hastily restored the tariffs.

The identical situation exists today. Under the Reciprocal Trade agreement program, tariffs have been slashed. The war prevented foreign nations taking advantage. Now normal shipping is resuming, and the first forerunners of a coming wave of foreign goods, produced and marketed at less than American costs, is on the way.

If the Truman program is continued, and if tariffs already dangerously low are further reduced, no power on earth can prevent a repetition of the 1920-21 panic within coming months. Much foreign goods already is on the market; but thus far, because it is largely "luxury" items and not specially competitive, it has not been felt.

But give it time. This means that forces are being released which will take charge of events. No "good intention" on the part of Republican leadership not to make the tariff an issue, and no co-operative compromise between President Truman and Congress, could stand up a minute if foreign goods began flowing in at prices and in volume enough to shut down American plants wholesale.

The average American may be faintly disturbed at seeing the word "tariff" appearing more and more often in the newspaper. Part of the propaganda for free trade has always been to make it appear the "new" and advanced thought, and to brand the protective tariff principle as old-fashioned.

But discussion of the subject continues to increase. A few days ago a list of Southern States, all of which have baby industries they would like to encourage, broke precedents by coming out for protective tariffs and against any further tinkering with the reciprocal trade agreements.

Several labor unions have come forward to take a stand on behalf of protective tariffs. This number will grow rapidly as clearer understanding of the dangers of the present situation is grasped by these groups, which are always in the first line of sufferers from unsound free-trade experiments.

Temperatures are shortening. Various New Dealers have tried to make it appear that any Republican effort to use its mandate from the November elections for the purpose of over-hauling our trade relations would be an unfriendly step aimed at disrupting the United Nations. This of course is nothing more than political hokum.

The American Tariff League, little in the news during recent years, is coming back into the picture.

In a recent release, it raises some grave questions about the plans of President Truman, in connection with his apparent hope of "freezing" cut-throat tariff rates before the Republican Congress can get on its feet and before the American people catch up with what is going on.

The League suggests that the New Deal scheme of internationalism really calls for "the United States running itself to pay for its own exports," and intimates that globaloney boys at Washington are busy with planning schemes for remaking, not merely our own economy, but that of all nations on earth.

As for the President's plan, the League says "it looks like an attempt at mass revision of the Tariff Act," charges that he plans to freeze the status of several hundred "free" items not really under his jurisdiction; and raises the question of whether the President expects to use the Reciprocal Trade Agreements changes "as an instrument of foreign political policy"—"attempting to purchase compliance by some countries of political policies which we are attempting to impose upon the world."

The pot's beginning to simmer.

Inside Your Congress

In writing the Wage and Hour Act, Congress did not define the word "work-week." That was left as it was then commonly understood, based upon the customs and practices in the different industries.

Portals to portal time had scarcely been heard of when the Act was passed in 1938, much less discussed or adopted by Congress. For generations, the work day was understood as from "whistle to whistle" in the factories, or "face to face" as in the mines. In short, the time in which the employee does productive work for his employer.

Not only was it a matter of custom, but in many cases it was a matter of contract. For example, the United Mine Workers agreed in writing that "seven hours of labor shall constitute a day's work and this means seven hours work at the usual working places for all classes of labor, exclusive of the lunch period, whether they be paid on the day or tonnage or other piece work basis."

Did this contract mean anything to the New Deal majority on the court? Not a thing. The United Mine Workers in fact protested against portal to portal as a basis of computing time. The U. M. W. wrote the Wage and Hour Administrator in 1940 after the law had gone into effect: "The uniform high rates of pay that have always been included in the wage agreement of the mining industry contemplate the employee's working day beginning when he arrives at his usual working place. Hence, travel time was never considered as a part of the agreement or obligation of the employer to pay for in this industry, nor as hours worked by the employees, and this has been the case since the eight-hour day was established in the industry—April 1, 1898."

Later, in order to skate around the wage ceilings imposed by law in time of war, the miners reversed their position and asked for "portal to portal" in order to get more pay. The Supreme Court obliged them.

Usurping the legislative powers of Congress, it rewrote statutes, tears up contracts and long established customs and awards travel time in factories. The suits threaten the solvency of business on which all jobs depend. The Court presents a challenge to Congress that Congress must meet.

"Better American Home" To Be Panel Discussion Topic

A panel discussion has been arranged for members of the Bristol Travel Club when they meet tomorrow afternoon in the Club house at 2:30. The program will be in charge of the public welfare and the youth conservation committees, of which Mrs. Elwood P. Goslin and Mrs. Adolph Ancker are chairmen.

The participants in the panel discussion will be: Mrs. Richard I. McKinney, Mrs. Paul D. Brown, Mrs. Russell W. DeLong. The subject, "A Better American Home in a Better World Community" was inspired by this year's slogan of the Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. McKinney will discuss the subject from the angle of family relations within the home; Mrs. Brown, as regards health; and Mrs. Neher will discuss the relation of the home to the community. Mrs. DeLong will then sum up the entire subject from the psychological angle.

Mrs. C. Scott Vetterli, a member of the music committee, has arranged a special musical program consisting of an instrumental trio from Bristol high school. This trio is comprised of J. Paul Nuse, 'cello; Miss Myrtle Corning, violin; and Miss Rita Clouti, piano.

Tea will be served and the hostesses of the afternoon will be Mrs. John J. Hargrave and Mrs. Serrill D. Dettelsohn.

Faith Clarke's SHOPPING TIPS FOR BUDGETEERS

BRIGHTEN UP the winter wardrobe with springlike flower hats. The Second Floor Millinery Dept. of the Snellenburg Store has a garden array in both felts and—actually—straws. I liked the wide choice of styles, from the younger perky bouquet type to the face-framing flattering types that more conservative women like. Prices range from $5.75 to $15, to suit all Budgeteers. (2nd fl.)

HEALING LIGHT is one of the modern glories of medical science. The infra-red lights are especially easy to use at home. One simply screws an oversized adjustable lamp, such as a bridge lamp, or buys an adjustable base made especially for the purpose. The Snellenburg Housewares Dept. has some splendid "Penetray" infra-red bulbs and separate bases. The clear glass infra-red bulbs cost but $1.60. The red glass infra-red bulbs (the red glass is said to screen out some undesirable rays) are priced at $3.50. Adjustable table lamp standards for the bulbs are priced at $5, with shields $7.95. These bulbs have many uses where heat is required, from soothing muscular pains down to drying hair and nail polish! I wouldn't be without mine. (3rd fl.)

SUN DRIED FRUITS. The Snellenburg Food Store prides itself upon its dried fruits, and rightly. For those who prefer the fruits dried by sun only, without the usual sulphur dioxide, there are luscious peaches, figs or pears at 69c a pound, prunes at 49c and apricots at $1. Then there's a heavenly pound "compo" package of dried peaches, pears, apricots and prunes, evenly assorted, prepared with sulphur dioxide. This compo can be cooked or eaten right from the package, like candy. It costs but 69c. (Chestnut St., 1st fl.)

KEEP HIM DRY in stormy weather and keep him smartly dressed at the same time. In other words, send him down to the Snellenburg Men's Raincoat Dept., one of the most inclusive in town. He'll find several top brands of coats, among them the famous "Alligator," "Cosmopolitan" and "Koroseal" lines. There are several styles, one of the most swaggy being designed after the officer military trench coats. Practically all the coats are in natural or tan. An excellent assortment of sizes, $12.50 to $25.50. (3rd fl.)

P.S. Do send clippings with mail orders when you can! Phone free (5c, 10c, and 15c out-of-town calls only). Penna.—ENT. 10160; Jersey—WX-1150. Shop located Market, 11th to 12th Sts., Phila.—through to 1125-29 Chestnut St. Be hearin' from you! Faithfully, FAITH.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Theodore Kohlmeier
Pastor
St. Luke's Lutheran Church
Croydon

Lord Jesus, who at the wedding in Cana didst perform Thy first miracle by turning the water into wine, thus supplying a need and adding to the happiness of the wedding guests, and by that miracle didst manifest forth Thy glory, causing Thy disciples to believe on Thee, we thank Thee for thus honoring the holy estate of matrimony which is to be held in honor by all. May we look unto Thee in all our needs particularly in the need of our soul, and to receive all Thy blessings with thanksgiving. Amen.

great value to the prison as it will provide much needed work throughout the year. It was successfully worked this Summer and produced a wide variety of vegetables for the use of the prison. Surplus crops were canned by the inmates to the amount of 5,000 quarts. This means a great saving in the feeding of the inmates. One-half acre of strawberries and one-half acre of asparagus were planted.

"During the year the inmates have worked at the Court House over 4150 man hours of labor. At the County Home they worked over 5050 man hours of labor. They also worked for Albert Darrah whenever requested. Work consisted of: Hauling ashes, hauling trash, cutting grass, raking lawns, cement work, cleaning, painting, snow removal, cutting and husking corn, thrashing grain, bailing hay, filling silo and many other jobs. This work has helped to keep the inmates in good physical and mental condition. They appreciate the opportunity and consider it a privilege to work at some essential task and they try to do a good job.

"There has been a very noticeable increase in the number of young men and women being committed to the prison.

"The prison canteen has had a very successful year and is run for the sole benefit of the inmates.

"There has been an endeavor made to secure employment for all inmates being released from the institution. In many instances we must secure a place for them to live and also a sponsor. We try to encourage all inmates to have good habits and to be clean in all ways, with the hope that when they are released they will be better citizens. Church services are held weekly and most of the inmates take part in the service.

"Following is a list of the prisoners received, discharged and etc., during the year 1946:

"Prisoners confined in prison Jan. 1, 1946, male, 37; female, 0; prisoners confined in prison Jan. 1, 1947, male, 44; female, 4.

"Committed, 595; discharged, 494;

held for trial, 161; held for hearing, 232; sentenced by the court, 193; sentenced by the Justice of the Peace, 101; discharged by J. of P. or released by precept, 236; female prisoners committed, 30; released on parole by the court, 26; released by State on parole, 12; released on bail by Quarter Sessions, 20; sentenced to Eastern State Penitentiary, 17; sent to Glen Mills, 4; sent to Huntingdon Reformatory, 1; sent to Camp Hill, 14; sent to Norristown State Hospital, 6; sent to Allentown State Hospital, 1; sent to Industrial Home for Women, Muncy, 2; discharged at expiration of sentence by J. of P., 68; discharged by the court, 51; juveniles committed, 37."

BADENHAUSEN WINS BY ONE FIELD GOAL

With the lead changing hands several times, the Badenhausen and Knights of Columbus quintet gave a fine exhibition of basketball last night on the Rohm and Haas floor. A single field goal was the Badenhausen margin of victory as the final score ended 32-30.

Field goals by Dave Hutton and "Jimmy" Cooper were the deciding points for the boiler-makers although Bonner scored a double-decker in his last try for the net for the Knights.

The Badies had a one-point lead at the close of the first quarter and were tied up at the half, 13-13. The Cornwells lads went ahead by two points in the third period, 22-20, and twice were tied in the final session but managed to win out.

The Casseys would have won easily if they had made one-third of their shots under the nets. Time and time again the players were gifted with shots near the baskets but would miss.

"Benny" Samsel again led the Badenhausen team in scoring with nine points while "Buddy" Bonner and Harry Ferry were high for the Knights.

'46 Sees Scouts' And Cubs' Goals Exceeded

During the past year 25 Scouts of Bucks County Council have been advanced to the rank of Eagle Scout. This triples all previous yearly records except the year 1945—even though the standards for advancement are more rigid than at any time of the council.

The annual council meeting and dinner will be held on Saturday afternoon and evening, January 25th, with five group meetings at the court house in Doylestown. At these meetings selected and qualified leaders will give discussion to the group on subjects such as Scout-mastership, Cubmastership, troop committee organization, district committee work, and senior Scout program. A women's committee is being organized which will have a series of selective programs such as visitation to the Bucks County museum, the workshop for the blind, and "Fonthill". The council meeting will be held at five p.m., at which time presentation of reports of the committees of the council will be made. Officers will be elected for the next year. All Scouts are being invited to attend the group meeting and the council meeting. The evening dinner meeting will be held at the Presbyterian educational building, Doylestown, with the president presiding. Induction of the president for the year, presentation of awards including training awards and the Silver Beaver will be made, and an address will be part of the program. Inasmuch as this is the 20th anniversary of the council, recognition of that event will be made as well as presentation of the five year program books to the president and members of the council and districts who will have a part in carrying out this program for the next year. This program will give Scout-ing to many more boys during the year it is stated.

Patients Enjoy Radios Provided by Girl Scouts

CROYDON, Jan. 9.—Croydon Girl Scout Troop has presented to Valley Forge General Hospital, Phoenixville, three radios.

The radios have been placed in different wards, with the ward for the blind included. "The pleasure received from listening to the radios is unmeasured," 1st Lt. William D. Quinnlan, special services officer, has informed Edna VanLangen and members of the troop who represent, in a letter of acknowledgement.

PROFY TEAM WINS OVER HIBERNIANS IN GOOD GAME

It Was The Sixth Straight Win For The Victors

GAME ENDS AT 26 TO 17
Largest Crowd of Season Was on Hand to See The Game

In one of the best defensive games ever played on the Rohm and Haas floor, the Profy team remained unbeaten in the Bristol Basketball League by winning out over the Hibernians, 26-17. It was Profy's sixth straight win and first loss of the year for the Hibernians.

The largest crowd of the season saw the well-guarded game. The Hibs, noted for their defense, played up to standard and succeeded in holding the usually high-scoring Profy team to 26 points. But offensively, the Corson Streeters were failures and missed many baskets that ordinarily should have been dropped for fielders.

Although the Mill Streeters won by a 9-point margin, it wasn't until the last four minutes that the lead grew to that amount. From start to finish, the score was close. The Hibs tied the count on three different occasions but never took the lead.

With four minutes left to play,

AWFUL RHEUMATIC PAIN LEFT MAN'S BODY IN 8 HOURS

"For years I had rheumatic pains in the muscles of my shoulders, legs and ankles, which finally got so stiff, sore and painful that when I walked I would flinch with agony. I got RRU-AID and started taking it, and the rheumatic pains began leaving my body in eight hours. Now the pains are gone from my muscles entirely. I feel like some other person, and I praise RRU-AID to the sky." This is a genuine testimonial from a man living right here in this vicinity.

RRU-AID is the new liquid formula containing three valuable medical ingredients. These Three Great Medicines, all blended into one, go right to the very cause of rheumatic and neuritis aches and pains. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get RRU-AID. Sold by all Drug Stores here in Bristol. (Advertisement)

Joe Snyder dropped in a field goal and was fouled in doing so. He converted the foul to make the score 19-16. But from here on, it was all Profy's. Johnny Slaven scored an under-handed shot near the net and Ralph Cahall scored on an easy shot. Just for good measure, Joe Roe got loose under the basket and took a pass from Slaven and scored a two-pointer.

Watched closely all night, Slaven scored 11 points for the radiomen while Snyder had six to lead the Hibs. Roe, Slaven, and Cahall did practically all the scoring for the winners. Joe Gallagher and "Rip" Kelly played excellent ball for the Hibs.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging headache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully for millions for over 50 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

YOUTH LEAGUE PLAYERS TO VISIT PHILA. TONIGHT

The players of the Bristol Youth League will be the guest of the management of the Philadelphia Warriors tonight at Convention Hall, Philadelphia, where the Warriors meet Detroit. Arrangements have been made by the Warriors' manager, "Eddie" Gottlieb, to take care of 100 youths from here.

Buses will leave from the Mutual Aid Hall, Wood street, and all players are requested to be present before six as the buses will leave at six o'clock sharp.

The group will be chaperoned by Chief of Police Linford Jones, officials of the league, and team managers. Arrangements for the affair were made by Devon Smith, referee of the league.

Games of the Youth League scheduled for tonight will be played at a later date.

ROHM & HAAS FIVE VICTORS OVER FALLS

The Rohm and Haas team came from behind to beat the Falls Alumni five last night in the final game of the triple-header on the Rohm and Haas court. Final score stood: Rohm and Haas, 34; Falls, 31.

The Fallsington team had an easy time of it during the early part of the game and at one point held a 13-1 lead. But the chemical mixers
